Byrne's account of his stringing from H.G. Farmer, 'Some Notes on the Irish Harp' in Music & Letters vol XXIV, April 1943.

a, b, h: sure of these.
 f: fairly confident d: can't see bass, not entirely confident that 5 and 6 are correctly identified (based on extrapolation from b). But relative positions are clear.
 g: very fuzzy, hard to distinguish strings and fingers
